Officially supported by:

MINISTRY OF INVESTMENT AND DOWNSTREAM INDUSTRY/
INDONESIA INVESTMENT COORDINATING BOARD

As demand for critical minerals rises globally, Indonesia is ideally placed to use its reserves as a strategic asset to negotiate trade deals, attract foreign investment, strengthen its geopolitical influence and become a global battery hub. Meet the key players from industry and government at this important event in Bali.

International Critical Minerals & Metals Summit: Indonesia 2025

September 24-26 Bali, Indonesia

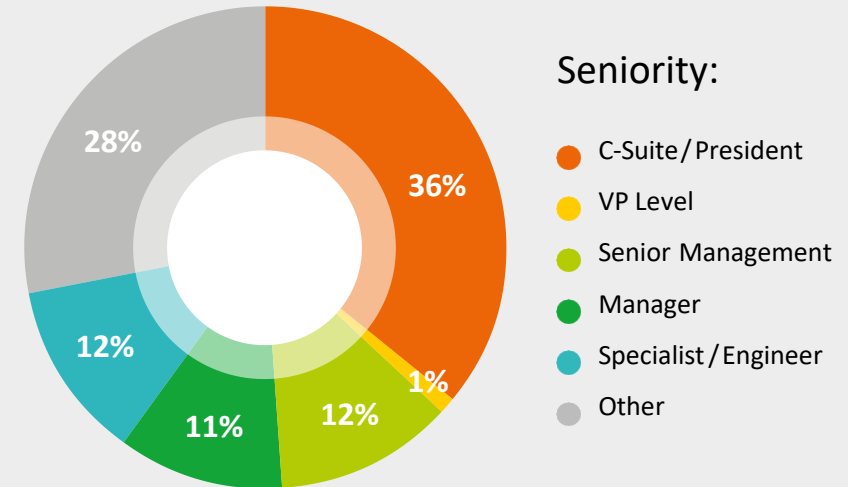

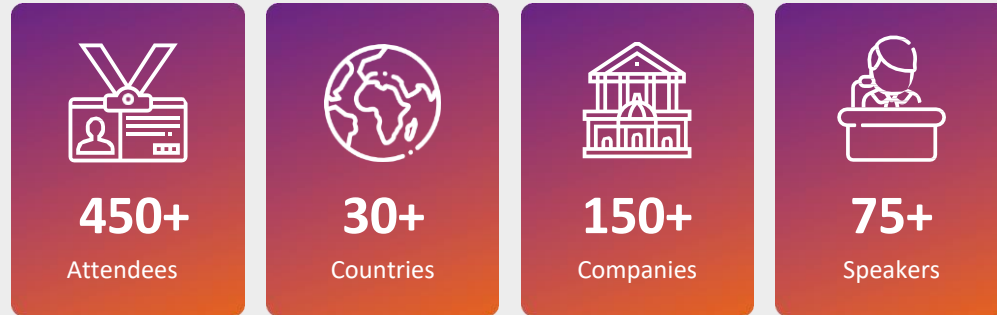

The summit is a must-attend event for anyone involved across the critical minerals value chain, including investors, exploration firms, producers, smelters, processors, miners, battery and cell manufacturers, supply chain professionals and OEMs. Attendees will gain valuable insights into supply-demand dynamics, trade flows, pricing trends and project developments across key materials such as nickel, copper, tin, zinc, gold, manganese, cobalt, silica, steel, aluminium, bauxite and alumina.

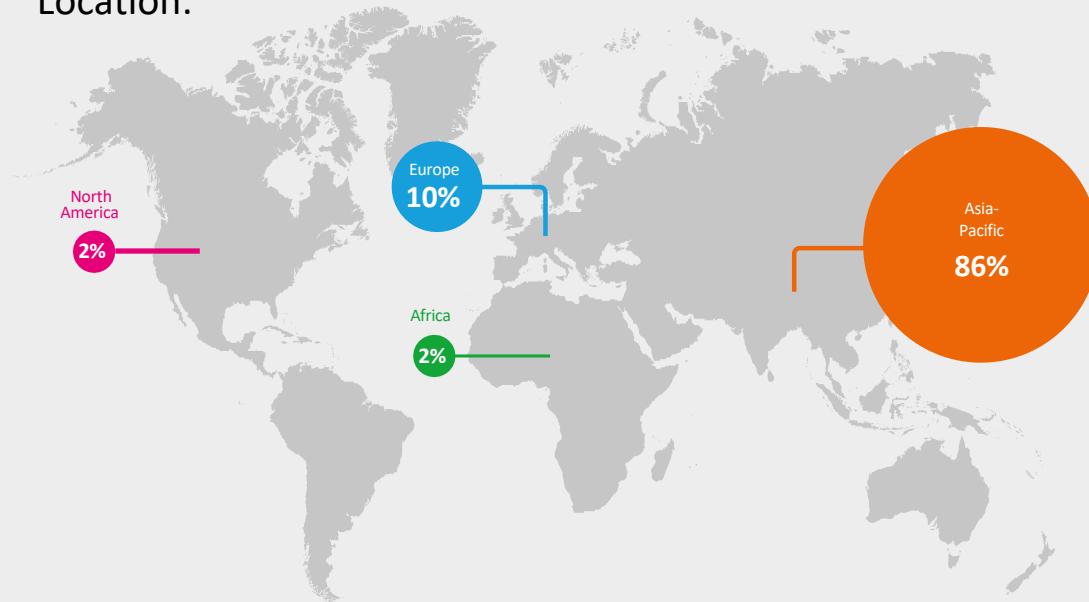

Don't miss this unparalleled opportunity to connect, collaborate and contribute to shaping Indonesia's role as a global leader in critical minerals and the energy transition.
